OK, it was a glitch in endnote. In “temporary citations,” you have to check “use field instead of record number.” Now it works!

It doesn't make a difference at this point. I just want unformatted HERO links to be added.

You could just add them by hand (by looking up the HERO ID numbers), but it would be good to figure out how to use litciter.

P.S. It should make a difference whether they're hero or heronet links before they're formatted, right?

Thanks. Do you think you can get this back to me by the end of today? I am being pushed hard to get this out by tomorrow.

Do you mind fixing your HERO links in the Tox Review (I've already fixed the RTC and the Supplemental Info) and sending it back to me? If you leave them unformatted, that would be great and I can just cut and paste them into the version with Samantha's edits.

No problem. I've made the same mistake with endnote before. If you close all of your existing endnote libraries, and then download the BaP library on HERO through MS Word using the "Choose Library" button under the "Lit Citer" tab, that should work. It has happened before that sometimes the library will not download and I've been able to get the hero staff to email it to me. Recently I've had good luck with the HERO lit citing feature. In the future, if you have issues I can help you trouble shoot.

LOL! Thanks Kathleen, I'll have to figure out why the litciting didn't work properly. I'm kind of a novice. And I had thought SO many times about how I needed to go back and change the table numberings in the supplement, and then totally forgot. Sorry! I was trying to make all this easy for you! Please let me know if I can help with anything. Thanks!!

Hi Catherine, so just a few things. The changes in the supp info look good. Thanks for trying to lit cite as you went along, [

Subject: BaP docs

Hi, I'm attaching the full docs of the tox review and the supplement—changes were only made in the tox review in 1.1.5 and in the suppl in section D to the tables there. It's all in redline and ltcited, but I did not format citations. Let me know if I can be more specific about where changes are—feel free to call!
